

I'm not living like this any more. FUCK this command, fuck the navy!! If the recrate process was better than it is, we all wouldn't be in this mess but I'm tired of living a failures life day in and day out. you all made it HELL for me every day here. Why should I get punished for getting injured in seal training then get denied medical?
I was only running up to 20 miles a day on a broken leg, silly me, I was fine.
I'm done. Its not worth it to live like this anymore.
